

Use the code to find the names of seven more countries.

The worksheet is divided into two main sections. On the left is a large grid of clock faces arranged in a staircase pattern. The top row contains five clocks showing times corresponding to the letters I, T, A, L, Y. Below this are four rows of five clocks each, followed by three rows of six clocks each, and finally one row of seven clocks at the bottom. Each clock has a blank space below it for writing. To the right of the clock grid is a vertical column of eight curved arrows pointing downwards. Further to the right is a word-building section consisting of seven horizontal boxes. The first box contains the letter 'I', and the subsequent boxes contain 'T', 'A', 'L', 'Y'. Below these are four more rows of empty boxes for additional words.
